FARMING INDUSTRY GETTING WORSE EVERY DAY IN THIS PROVINCE, SAY NEW WEST MINSTER GRAND JURORS

Chinese Peddlers Have Killed Truck Gardening for Whites; Charge Made Against Dairies; Jurors Are Outspoken Regarding Faults of Physicians in Their County; Suggestion Made Concerning Compensation of Employees

New Westminster, Oct. 4.—A pessim-fatic future for the farming industry is forecasted in the presentment of the grand jury at the New West-minster assize court to-day. The jury-men recorded the opinion that "things are getting worse every day," and in-cidentally blamed the peddling system adopted by the Chinese vegetable growers. In part, the presentment asserted:

"The majority of the members of this grand jury is composed of either farmers or men closely in touch with the farming industry, who consequently feel that they are particularly qualified to refer to the conditions under which the industry is suffering at the present time. These conditions are such that the whole industry is in a most unprofitable and unsattsfactory state, and things

Sonorously the loyal toast was responded to with song by all the company, and after the echoes of "God Save the King" had passed into silence, the chairman rose to introduce the welcoming programme.

There was small need, thought Mr. Farris, to explain to this audience the object of their assembly that night. It was fitting that the Liberals of Vancouver should take this opportunity of tendering to their leader a warm expression of their appreciation of his personality and of his services. Vancouver, banner city of the province to-day, would assuredly after the next general election become the banner city of Liberalism. Rightly so. Liberals had much to be proud of. When the tariff measure was introduced by President Wilson the trust magnates rallied all their tremendous resources and marched upon the Capitol in the expectation of repeating the triumphs of other years. They at once opened with their deadliest and most effective weapon, the lobbying among congressmen, which their experts had brought to a state of perfection unilled anywhere in the world. land, Scotland and Wales. The car will leave Vernon October 18.

The Okanagan United Growers, Ltd., and the Vernon Fruit Union were un-able to send a carload lot for exhibi-tion at the provincial fair at Westminster owing to the rush of orders, and strong demand for this fruit. It was, however, felt to be the duty and privi-lege of the board to get together the finest carload in the valley for Christ-mas boxes to those at home; the sec-retary produced a number of congrat-ulatory letters from intending pur-chasers stating what great pleasure the fruit had given because of its fine condition on arrival in Great Britain last year.

Thought It Was Bad.

When the first news was received here in the form of wireless messages relayed from the Spokane to Victoria by Cape Lazo station, it was anticipated that another great marine captastrophe was about to be written in the annals of Pacific Coast shipping. The "S. O. S." calls contained a most distressing note and at first it appeared as though the ship and all her passengers and crew were to meet a watery grave. Several steamships happened to be steaming close to the scene of the accident and upon picking up the startling news they at once made all haste to render whatever assistance they could. The Latouche, of the Alaska Steamship Company, was the first to arrive and arrangements laid up at Eagle Harbor.

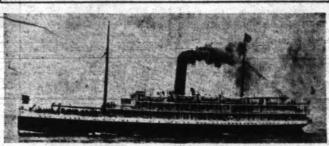

were quickly made for the transfering of the passengers in case anything might happen to the ship. Boats filled with the Spokane's travellers were lowcred and pilloted alongside the Latouche. The work of transferring the passengers was accomplished at dead of night, without any trouble. The Spokane crashed on the rocks at a good clip and many of the passengers who were asleep were awakened by the force of the impact. There was no sign of panic, however. With the tide rising, efforts were at

Feet Placed Aboard Alta in 19 Days

Capt. Shmidau, master of "the inbound Nippon liner Awa Maru, sent a wireless message to the local agents last night informing them that he would bring his ship into port on Wednesday next. It was not stated whether the vessel would berth here in the forenoon or the afternoon, but it is more than likely that her moorins ropes will be made fast before the twelfth hour. The Awa is malding a smart trip from Yokohama, especially for this season of the year, when wintry weather is beginning to appear, on the Pacific.

The Awa is bringing in a large cargo and for Victoria hes mearly 60 tons to discharge. Her passenger list is not large, as travel during the Fall months of the year is always light. This is the season which comes in between the general influx of Orientals and the great exodus of Chinese each year, who return to their home land for the pear are in the Year celebrations.

Chancellor Spoke.

Chancellor Spoke.

One or two remarkable reports dealing with the traffic and with road expenditure were circulated at the conference. Mr. Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, who presided at the inauguration, quoted some striking passages from one or two of them. The increase in traffic was illustrated by the case of one secondard arerial road out of London.

"Twenty years ago," he stated, with his hearers had been at that spot, they would probably have found a few light yehicles and one or two heavy carts. Ten years ago would have been found perhaps a stream of bicycles, but on a Sunday morning recently in a single hour there had passed 100 bicycles, 56 motor-bicycles, 50 motor omnibuses, 300 mour there had passed 100 bicycles, 50 motor-bicycles, 50 motor omnibuses, 300 motor-cars and 15 horse-drawn vehicles, and, in addition to that, on a Monday morning would be found a number of heavy motor delivery vans. That was a revolution in the roads of the country."

trips partially or entirely 'Jy water, the constables have depended practically solely on the horse for transportation during summer. Where the policemen went it was usually held that the horse could go also. It was a very ordinary sight to see a constable settling out for a long cross-country. There were now 220,600 motor vehicles There were now 220,000 motor vehicles. In Great Britain and Ireland alone. That was twice as many as the nearest country in Europe, but only a third of the number in the United States of America. The effect of all this was that the question of roadmaking had once more become an important social, economic and financial question for the country expecially. very ordinary sight to see a constable setting out for a long cross-country ride, and, with compass as guide, ignoring what trails there were and riding straight to his goal across the prairie. Ofte he would be called upon to send his mount down into a coulee and up the other side in order to cross the depression. With the automobile, however, it is expected that the course of the poscenen will be modified. The coulee is one problem to the agile, well-trained horse and another to the automobile. It is thought the men will be found riding along trails more frequently than they have economic and financial question for the consideration of the country—especially financial. It urgently pressed upon en-gineers, upon municipalities, upon gov-ernments, and especially upon rate-payers. In 1892 the roads of England and, Wales had cost to maintain fs,500,000. Twenty years later—last year—they had cost £15,500,000, practically

Do Least Damage In Europe one of the most importan aspects of road construction is adaptability to motor traffic. It has been ability to motor trame. It has been proved, contrary to prevailing opinion, that motors do not damage the roads to as great an extent as horse-drawn vehicles. Given a well-constructed road, with a smooth surface, pneumatic tires cause practically no damage Pneumatic tires do harm only when the road surface is loose. The initial cost of construction of a well-made road 'a very great, in comparison with the ordinary earth-bound macadam, but experience has amply demonstrated. perience has amply demonstrated that the most expensive road is ultimately the cheapest. The cost of maintenar of a road sealed with some bitumine of a road sealed with some bituminous binder is infinitesimal in comparison with the ordinary metalled surface road. This is a phase of the subject which interests the cities and suburbs, however, more than country districts. In the country mechanical traction at present offers little serious competition to the horse.

MUST KEEP TRAFFIC CONSTANTLY MOVING

Proposal is Made in New York Californian Doctor Has Comto Prevent Stopping of Traffic experts in New York have prolved a new scheme for the handling of vehicles in congested business thoroughfares that is expected to increase the efficiency of the present system approximately 50 per cent. The rotary movement of automobiles and wagons at street infersections is declared to solve the dilemma in which traffic is kept constantly moving.

The rotary scheme, conceived by William Phelps Eno, is to be tried in Fifth avenue in New York city and the experiment will be watched with keen interest. The last record taken of traffic in that important thoroughfare in the nation's metropolis showed the average stop under the block system was thirty-seven seconds, in which time most of the vehicles are from two to three blocks away, leaving the street vacant for that distance. The rotary scheme will obviate this, since there will be no stop and vehicles will proceed with and in the current of the stream of traffic, instead of against it at right angles, and easily weave at right angles, and easily weave at will, spreading practically uniformly over the entire surface of the street, thus increasing its traffic capacity about 50 per cenf.

Under the present system much valuable time is lost while, for instance, cast and west traffic is blocked while

Caught in Sand Storm.

"Between Portland and San Francisco we climbed the longest grade in the world, in the Siskiyou mountains. This is a continuous rise of thirty-five miles right out of Shasta Springs. The road is cut along the face of the mountains, with an 800 to 900-foot drop on one side and a rise on the other side of the same distance. The Siskiyou mountains are beautiful and well worth the trip.

"We were caught in a sand storm on the California desert and held up for more than twenty-four hours because of the shifting sands, which drifted high above the running boards. This was the most trying experience of the whole trip, as we were without food and had to use the shovel a whole lot in order to get our car out of the sand. "The roads for the rest of the journer were on the whole good, but the temperature was somewhat oppressive at the time of year we happened to be there. The scenic wonders that await the tourist in this country will amply repay the traveller for any hardships that are encountered. This is one of the main reasons I have elected to wind up this summer's tour in the Southwest and Southern California."

The Best Roads.

Mr. Pierce claims a unique record on his ride from New York to Portland. Or., which he says was nesotiated without a mechanical adjustment.

On this summer's trip the Pierce party will retrace part of last season's route, especially in the Southwest and Southern California.

For pure touring enjoyment, Mr. Pierce asserts America is without a rival even in the old countries, which he has toured extensively. Here are some of his sidelights on road conditions on his border line tour:

The best roads on our entire trip were in New York state and in New Jersey. After leaving the East, the Pacific highway proved to ba a remarkable stretch of foad. It is well sign-boarded and Rept in the best of repair.

In Western Canada we had to keep as close to the Canadian Pacific railway as possible; at one point we were forced to cross a railroad bridge which was in the course of construction. There are many delightful side trips to be made in British Columbia. National roads legislation was a

To those who have visited any of the lore-laden Spanish missions that, centuries old, still nestle quaintly in the mountains and valleys of California, a modern automobile scarcely belongs in the picture. Yet Miss Lucretia Del Valle, an actress who plays the leading role in the "Mission Play." in commemoration of those venerable institutions, graciously links a car with her inspiration. For several days Miss Del Valle toured among the missions, absorbing "atmosphere" and traditions in greparation of her work in the play.

CARBON DEPOSITS

Robert Lowe, afterwards Lord Sher-brocke, says the Argonaut, once saw a deaf member of parliament trying his best to catch with his ear-trumpet the words of an extremely dull speech. "Just look at that foolish man," said Carbon deposits in the cylinder heads carbon deposits in the cylinder heads and on top of the piston are the great-est trouble to the motorist, and until the oxygen gas process was recently discovered the only sure way to get all the carbon out was to take the cylinthe carbon out was to take the cylinders off and scrape the carbon out by hand, which takes two or three days.

The oxygen gas method originated in Germany and is now the most approved, cleanest and quickest of all systems. Oxygen gas is non-indam mable itself, but when a stream of it is thrown against carbon deposit and a flame applied the carbon is so slight that the fingers can be placed in the valve pocket immediately after without burning the skin. It takes only about two hours to clean a four-cylinder motor of carbon by this improved process."

In unifficient of the same ambition. A man of unifficient means buys what pleases his fancy and does not worry about the fallows and of moderate income has been figuring for years, waiting for the time to come when he could afford to own a machine.

He has been kept out of the field by the tales of fabulous amounts spent for machines and their operation. He has been kept out of incurring heavy expenses of upkeep, although he well knew the innumerable pleasures he would derive. His anxiety lest the car eat up in a month almost as much as he could earn in two has been the greatest drawback to a greater and more universal use of the automobile. In previous years his fear had some foundation, but to-day it is entirely to the case of the automobile in the case of Rimifax and Daylight had won on Thursday, but the public refused to believe that they could repeat with the result that both of these cracks went to the post rank outsiders. It was a mere gallon for Daylight, while Rimifax beat Jerky by a nose at the wire in one of the most thrilling stretch finishes of the afternoon. Gaty, Palien and Safranor popped home in front with a little to spare, but the long when Tallow Dip. Ben Stone, Rimifax and Galety Girl took down first money from large fields.

Safranor's New Mark.

Canapa established the record for the day over the six-furiong course on Thursday, but Safranor, with Claver in the saddle, won all by herself in the grand time of 1.15 3-5, clipping a fiftin of a second off the time of the Patterson mare. Canapa, however, shouldered 114 pounds, while Safranor went in at the fairy weight of 104. Mammy also Bees Not Drafting.

Victoria will not put in any drafts for players this year, but President Wattelet intends to take a trip east this winter, during which he will line up some new men for his 1914 squad. Manager Delmas has filed a list of ball players that he needs and it need not surprise the fans if they see an entirely new club in the field. The manager is not satisfied with his infield, and this will be his first consideration. Rawling's absence leaves a huge gard. and this will be his first consideration.

Rawling's absence leaves a huge gap at second, while it will be hard to fill Swain's place in the outfield. Crum and Zimmerman are the nucleus of the outfield, with Alberts as utility. Brooks may be used in a trade, while the club is after a couple of experienced right-handed twirfers. U. recognizes as an amateur league the National Lacrosse Union, then it is time for it to close up shop or else greatly alter its present amateur clause.

Vancouver Judge Dismisses Johnson Case.

As was generally expected on the Coast, Sammy Lichtenhein of the Wanderers was the goat when he tried to recover $2000 from Ernie Johnson simply because the latter lived up to a P. C. H. A. contract and played hockey on the Coast last winter. Johnston signed two contracts, one with the Vancouver because the latter lived up to a P. C. H. A. contract and played hockey on the Coast last winter. Johnston signed two contracts, one with the Vancouver club and another with the Wanderers. At the last moment he reconsidered his action and decided to come to the Coast with the result that Lichtenhein entered action in a Vancouver court. The case was held up for some time and judgment was finally delivered to the effect that as Johnston had kept his first contract, the second paper could not be legal and the costs were imposed upon the plaintiff, Sammy Lichtenhein. While this was a complete victory for the Coast Hockey contracts, it also serves to show the bockey star of to-day that contract is hinding and the one who lumps such an agreement can be reached. contract, the second paper could not be legal and the costs were imposed upon the plaintiff, Sammy Lichtenhein. While this was a complete victory for the Coast Hockey contracts, it also serves to show the hockey star of to-day that a contract is binding and the one who jumps such an agreement can be reached through the law, just the same as in any ordinary business dealing.

New Manager for the Royals; Champions Will Be Intact With Exception of Prodgers

Few hockey fans realise that in only two weeks' time most of Victoria's world's championship hockey seven will be taking their first spin on the blades. Manager Patrick has stated that the Arena will be thrown open for skating on October 17 and he intimates that hockey practises will start much earlier this season than last. Of course it will be impossible for the out of town men to get here for the preparatory work, but Bobby Rowe. Walter Small, Skinner Poulin and Lester Patrick will be able to grind off the summer's fat before the balance of the squad arrive. The absence of Prodgers is not going to hinder Victoria's chances of holding the cup any, and manager Patrick is authority for the statement that the London youth will be replaced at all costs.

So far, all of the new men have been So far, all of the new men have been awarded to either Vancouver or New Westminster. Considering that Vancouver will lose Frank Patrick and possibly Carl Kendall and Jack MacDonald, the Terminals come in for the first consideration, in the matter of material. Nelghbors and Lalonde, site a new goal tend, will seek a case improvement in the marcon and white seven, which greatly lacked a capable net guardian last winter. Then Vancouver needs a fast scoring forward, one who can take passes close in and one who can take passes close in and hit the net. Poor shooting spoiled Vancouver's chances times without mention last year, whereas yeitoria gained a great lead principally because of the remarkable scoring ability of the champions.

Royals' New Manager. Under a new manager Westminster expect to do a gr-at deal better than last winter. The Royals were handi-

Nothing short of a complete reversal of form upon the part of the reversal of form upon the part of the above athletes can keep them from again winning the title, though October hockey predictions are more guess work than real prophecy. WILL DRAW UP THE RUGBY SCHEDULE

Secretary A. D. B. Scott of the Vic-Secretary A. D. B. Scott of the Victoria Rugby Union, announces that the schedule for the Barmard Cup games will be drawn up at a meeting of the committee to be held at the Balmoral hotel on Wednesday evening next. Secretary Scott thinks that the coming season will be a success in every way, the addition of the Fifth Regiment fifteen having been a most welcome one. It will infuse new blood into local Rugby and add additional interest to the coming season's matches.

This season has seen the birth of two new Rugby clubs, the Montreal Scottish and the Harlequins, the for-mer of which has for its captain Mr. William Hutchison, who captained Scotland against the New Zealanders in 1897.

Arrangements are being made to send a representative team from Montreal to Hailfax d'aring the season to play the Wanderers: There is also a possibility of a team visiting New York City to play a series of matches. | Phoenix Beer, $1.50 per dos. qts. | The Kalserhof."

An Electric Wonder

Remarkable Invention Cures When Drugs Fail

There is no need of ruining your stomach with drugs, trying to conquer a pain or overcome some chronic aliment. No need of doctor and drug bills, for here is a remedy that helps hature cure.

You know that electricity is life—the mysterious force that digeris your food and converts it into blood and bone, tissue and muscle, and supplies the brain with power to think. It is electricity that keeps your heart going, your blood circulating and the various organs performing their functions like so many machines. functions like so many machines.

If you are sick or weak, if you have rheumatism, lumbago, nervous debility, loss of vitality or stomach, liver, kidney or bowel trouble, it means that some part of your body machinery needs electric energy. Electro-Vigor will restore it.

CURES WHILE YOU SLEEP

Electro-Vigor is a scientific appliance for saturating the body with electricity while you sleep. It is not like electric belts, faradic batteries and other shocking machines you may have seen or used. Electro-Vigor does not shock. The current is powerful in its action, but is soothing and pleasant to the nerves. For hours at a time Electro-Vigor sends the glowing electric fire coursing through the nerves and vitals, renewing their energy and giving to every weak organ the power to do its work as nature intended.

Let us prove to you that Electro-Vigor does all we claim for it. What belier evidence could you ask far than the lessmany or men and women whom it has cured?

Our first illustration shows a very effective suit embodying the waistoat idea. One hears much of the vaguerness of line characterizing the new suits, and it is true that the strictly mannish type of garment is becoming constantly less conspicuous in the feminine wardrobe. A uit of good conservative cut, such as the one we show, is, however, an absolute necessity for every woman. I represents, in addition to the waistcoat, two other interesting style features—the combination of contrasting fabrics and the cutaway idea, which continues strong for fall and winter.

WITH A FEAST OF WONDERFUL BARGAINS

SEE WINDOWS

Two years ago we laid the foundation of a business which has since played such an important part in the commercial and household affairs of this great city. One new idea after another for the betterment of store service has been put to the test and that they were successful is only too evident when you see the splendid business we are doing to-day—the result of sound business policies, namely, a store of perfect service, from the buying of an article to its safe and prompt delivery in your home—a store of absolute reliability where goods are sold strictly and solely upon their merits-maintaining at all times the highest standard of quality-marking all merchandise at the lowest possible basis of price-no misrepresentations-verifications of all statements about goods before giving them publicity. For two years we have worked unceasingly to give better values and the best service in everything.

HOW THE GAME OF POLITICS IS PLAYED IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

BY WALTER W. BAER

There are many definitions of the significance of the truism that they would "politics" and many applications of the theory expressed in such definitions. Real statesmen regard politics as the conduct of government and of the theory expressed in such definitions. Real statesmen regard politics as the conduct of government and referring in its widest application to referring in its widest application to the judicial, executive and legislative branches of government. There must be included in this conception of the term the problems of administration, and with these many cognate subjects. There is to-day, whether from convenience or the virtue of necessity, a distinction between the executive and the administrative functions of a government. Every definition of the term particle conveys are conveys are conveys are conveys and the convey the conception of the individual using the term. It is obvious that there must exist a difference between the conception of the statesman and that of the average elector or citizen. The first views the theory of the second problems of the dividual to the dividual using the term. It is obvious that there must exist a difference between the conception of the statesman are nothing more than professional politicians. It is then that of the average elector or citizen. The first views the theory of the second problems of the professional politicians. It is then that the digital can be conveyed to the conception of the second problems of the conveys of the definition and theory of politics are first to the "professional" politicians; the men for whom politics is a "game" at which they play, sometimes with their own peculiar views of the definition and theory of politics are first to the "professional" politicians. It is the men for whom politics is a "game" at which they play, sometimes with their own peculiar views of the definition and theory of politics are such their own peculiar views of the definition and theory of politics are such their own peculiar views of the definition and theory of politics are such their own peculiar views of the definition and theory of politics is a "game" at which they play, sometimes with their own peculiar views of the definition and theory of politics is a "game" at which they play, sometimes with their own peculiar views of the definition and theory of the men for whom politics is a "game" at which they play,

With respect to the people, that is With respect to the people, that is, to say the electors and cfitzens, politics pertain to the exercise of those rights and privileges by which the individuals of a state seek to control or influence the policy of its government as to public affairs. Where these rights, and privileges are exercised freely, without let or hindrance, we freely, without let or innurance, we have a true democracy. Where they are obstructed, frustrated or ignored we have incipient autocracy proceeding from bad to worse, as is the inevitable progress of all autocracies and ough it should scarcely be so, it who are ruled observe the theory and practice of politics from the opposite poles. It is difficult for those who rule to realize that they in fact only serve and it is often equally difficult for those who are ruled to realize the full one of these conditions obtains in British Columbia in the playing of the great game of politics I have no doubt. Indeed, men in all three classes have told me as much. Not that all the ardent and enthusiastic servants of the Bowser-McBride administration belong to one or other of these classes. There are loyal supporters of the administration who are blind to the passing incidents and events which are moulding the political statuary of the others who, none too blind, approothers who, none too bind, appeare and defend all the manipulation, machine methods, trickery, deception, broken pledges and defiance of law that is the common vogue. The army of "retainers" is a multitude, its name is Legion. It embraces almost all the public servants, for no one can long hold a government billet unless he becomes absolutely subservient to the system which has been evolved.

Every man in government employ must be a Conservative and work in the interests of the Bowser-McBride administration, with a few exceptions in the cases of those whose services cannot be dispensed with because they cannot be replaced. Thus, four superintersteries road these, are wardens, a constables and others whose duties take them much among the masses must be vote-getters before they are anything else, and whether they are competent to do anything else or not. And they must deliver the goods, or if they do not they must give satisfactory explanation why. With road superintendents the chief duty is to see that only! such men are employed. In British Columbia we have no democracy. In its stead we have government of the people by an autocracy, and certainly not for the people

This feature in the work of build ing up a country such as British Co to the Fort Fraser district, where conditions are perfect for the settlement who have investigated the opportuni-ties available in that favored spot feel convinced that the Fort Fraser dis-trict will become one of the largest producers of grain, cattle and vege-tables in the northern country. In the Fort Fraser district, which is now attracting investors, however, the price of land is indeed moderate compared with figures asked for property on the cost, and thus I is to the Fort Fraser district that those who pin their hopes on British Columbia becoming self-supporting in agriculture are turning their attention. The distric offers a splendid chance to demon strate that this province is not exclu-sively a mining and timbering coun-try, and as Fort Fraser is making good as a centre for the much needed growth of produce, it will encourage people in other parts of the province to look around and follow the lead.

Thus Fort Fraser has an opportun-ity to lead the way in the new move-ment, for there is no doubt that public attention is now turning to the land after years of acceptance of the idea that mining, lumbering and fishing that mining, lumbering and fishing were our only means of development.

The years to come will undoubtedly reveal the country to be the hope of the province. Each month brings us revelations as to wonderful valleys, rivers and ranges and the completion of the G. T. P. will serve to make investigation, each part France is not

Simon Fraser, it was-seriginally started as a crading post of the Hudson's Bay Company, and the reason that the Honorable Company of Gentlemen Adventurers settled on Fort Fraser, as a new was because it Gentlemen Adventurers settled on Port Fraser as a poet was because it was naturally suited for such a pur-pose and, indeed, had been so used by the Indians before the coming of the white man. Soon the rush and roar of the transcontmental will wake the echoes where once the silent children of the forest traded with the hardy brigade men of the Hudson's Bay Company. One of the features of western pany. One of the reatures of western development is the growth of old trading posts into thriving cities and the long lists of "forts", which have become big communities—commencing with old Fort Garry, now Winnipeg—will soon include the name of Fort their festivities on English lines. The Praser. Indeed the tide of northern young men and maidens dance the development has already reached that young men and maidens dance the same dances, to the same tunes, that are popular in London; those who as pire to culture 'eagerly devour the works of the fashlonable English writers of the moment, and flock to the theatres that, with one exception, of which the average citizen knows little and cares less, provide London plays.

And yet in this atmosphere there has grown up a society—small, but not exclusive, only neglected—that is as distinctively Irish, as intensely national, as any that Dublin has ever known. The nucleus around which this society the nucleus around which this society the society of the fact of the Nechaco and a thriving settlement. The work of railroad construction has dope much towards the establishing of a substantial little town at Fort Fraser and already there are government land and revenue offices, post office, telegraph and telephone stations, bank, drug store, department store, livery stable, brickyard, sawmill, pool-room and several business houses.

The old proverb about the proof of the pudding is one that carries a good deal of weight in Fort Fraser, for here is a district where one sees results. Those who have taken up land in the splendid districts surrounding the town have been delighted with the results of their labor. Farming is not only have been delighted with the results of their labor. Farming is not only practicable, but it is easy and the most encouraging demonstrations have been brought about. Thus the success of the district has been established beyond all doubt, and the beauty of it is that there is room for a huge population. The splendid country is large enough to accommodate a large farming community and there is a steady flow of back-to-the-landers into the district.

Representatives of royalty, as well as actual kings, have often found it true that "uneasy lies the head that wears a crown"; and never was this more emphatically true than in Lower Canada during the fifteen years preceding the rebellion. Lord Gosford, for instance, who took the reins of government at Quebec in 1835, began his official career with an avident determination to conwith an evident determination to con-cillate the politicians and the peop-s. Perseveringly kind and courteous, he presided at all kinds of entertainments, gave to charities, and exercised hos pitality on a large scale; but when it became known that he had not been empowered to redress the many griev-ances of the Canadians, all his civilities proved futile. The reform leader, Pap-ineau, refused to be moved in the least degree from his hostile attitude, and the House of Assembly stood with him. When it met in September, 1836, it declined to do any business whatso-ever, until some notice should be taken of the repeated demands for reform. In fact, "the House was on strike"; for richness and a maximum of 10 for keeping quality.

FINE SAMPLES OF MILK

Dairymen's Association Holds Interesting Competition at Saanich Fair.

One of the most important contests at the Saanich fair was the British Columbia Dairymen's Association competition for the best gallon of milk, xhibited in half gallon or quart quanexhibited in haif gain or quart quan-tities. Messrs. Winslow and Middle-ton of the agricultural department judged the five gallons entered by well known Saanich dairy people and awarded the first prize, a spring dial scale and sasitary milk pail to Mrs. R. Nimmo, whose exhibit was accorded a total score of 77 points out of the possible 85, the points being awarded as follows, 33 out of 35 for flavor and aroma, 23 out of 25, for absence of impurities, 11 out of 15 for richness and a maximum of 10 for technical conditions.

Arthur Ferguson with 71 points was awarded second prize, a spring dial scale, and Miss B. Smith won third, a sanitary milk pail. Miss Smith's exhibit was given a perfect score for richness, but fell low on the score for absence of impurities. Her total was 67 and the fourth entrant cot 66 so that the contest was a got 66, so that the contest was a most even one. Before the prizes were given the winners were com-pelled by the terms of the competition to become members of the Dairyman's

BIG PRICE ASKED FOR DRINK NEVER SERVED

Colored Man Claims Five Hundred Dollars for Refusal of Vancouver Barman

Vancouver, Oct. 4. Five hundred dellars for one lone drink would sound ost wanton extravagance even the most wanton extravagance even among the jeunesse doree of New York City. Yet it is not unknown in Van-couver, for it is the sum which is be-ing claimed by Moses Rowden for a dripk that he failed to get in a city

Moses is a colored man and he states in his claim, which came up before Judge McInnes yesterday, that he entered the bar of the Stratford hotel one day a year ago and asked to be served with a drink. He was refused by the man behind the bar and told to leave the place, no reasons being strong by a year ago and asked to be served with a drink. being augmented every hour by new arrivals. The greatest interest and enthusiasm was evinced in the proceedings, and the little country town was astir at an early hour, to prepare for the day's doings.

In an interview with a Times' representative early this morning K. R. Streatfield, president of the fair, expressed the greatest possible satisfaction with the nature and number of the exhibits, particularly with the fair. The former last year occupied only one third of the space which has been required this year. However, he regretted that there was a shortage of the display of vegetables, and stated that he thought that this was because the country was becoming broken up into small holdings. The president added that he was particularly proud of the fine showing of pure bred stock, and that he wished to express on behalf of the association his appreciation of the efforts of the enterty. Who had done so much in making the undertaking so successful.

Large Attendance.

Barly this afternoon an excellent programme of sports was commenced, this including races for all-comers, which brought a number of prominent at thetes from Victoria. A tug-of-war was organized between North and South Saanich which was a straited and very popular with the others. Large Attendance.

Referring to the crowd, Mr. Streatfield said this was fully twice as large as last year and that there were well over a thousand visitors present. The fact that two railways now entered the town had considerably aided this as the British Columbia Electric Railway had been running three specials and the Victoria and Sidney Railway one special to the fair.

The largest apple in the show was exhibited by F. Oldneld. Among the prizewinners were the Nakane Brothers, two Japanese farmers who have taken up land just north of Sidney and have had considerable success in fruit growing.

Cattle Were Fine. The cattle exhibit was also very fin and contained between sixty and seventy head, principally Holsteins, al-though there were also a few Jerseys and Durhams.

PURIFIED HIS BLOOD

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pille Healed Mr. Wilson's Sores

When the sewers of the body—bowels, kidneys and skin ducts—get clogged up, the blood quickly becomes impure and frequently sores break out over the body. The way to heal them, as Mr. Richard Wilson, who lives near London, Ont.

The way to heal them, as Mr. Richard Wilson, who lives near London, Ont., found, is to purify the blood. He writes:

"For some time I had been in a low, depressed condition. My appetite left me and I soon began to suffer from indigestion. Quite a number of small sores and blotches formed all over my skin. I tried medicine for the blood and used many kinds of ointments, but without satisfactory results. What was wanted was a thorough deansing of the blood, and I looked about in vais for some medicine that would accomplish this.

At last Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills were brought to my notice, and they are one of the most wonderful medicines I have ever known. My thood was purified in a very short time, seems healed up, my indigestion smalled. They always have a place in my home and are looked upon as the family remedy.

In moving the adoption of the report, E. Jacobs alluded to the excellent work done by the police on the occasion of the wreck of the steamer Nidge last winter, when lives would have been lost but for the knowledge of first aid possessed by the police. Mr. Jacobs observed that the captain was reported to have remarked that up till that time he had not taken much stock in first aid work but that he was convinced by the events of that evening. If the centre had done nothing else, that incident would have justified its existence. His desire had been to interest mine managers and miners in first aid work, and he hoped to see this work taken up as part of the curriculum of mine operation.

The surprise of the annual meeting of the Victoria centre of the St. John Ambulance Association, last evening at the Y. M. C. A. was the resignation of the secretary, Rev. E. G. Miller. Mr. Miller stated that other engagements prevented him giving attention to the office, but that he would consent to hold the appointment of treasurer. On that understanding he was appointed to the executive committee, which will be composed of Mrs. Thomas, Drs. Perkins, Houghton and Hudson, Deputy Chief Painer and E. Jacobs.

Dr. David Donald was again selected as chairman of the centre and A. J. Dallain as vice-chairman, with thanks for past services.

In his report on the year's work Rev. E. G. Miller stated that 243 had entered the classes, 147 had been examined and 142 had passed in the various sections for police, teachers and women. The report alluded to the presentation of certificates to the teachers at the George Jay School in May, and the successful denganstration at Bearon Hill park on August 9 in connection with the carnival week. opportunities."

"The exports affected in British Columbia." he continued, "are most likely to be lumber, coal and fish. I think this is a big step in our favor. Wood pulp also will have a better chance. It is my honest judgment that the new tariff is beneficial to Canada and will have a general effect of stimulating trade and to that extent will be of mutual benefit to both countries."

of mutual benefit to both countries."

Asset whether the new reforms would have any effect on the administration of the local customs, Mr. Marchant replied in the negative.

"Not at all." he replied. "The export side of our business is the only part it affects, and this is but an in-dintesimal part of our work. If it were doubled or trebled it would need no estiagement of the staff. It is mostly informal. One thing we have to do, for instance, is to help the provincial government by seeing that certain types of logs are not exported, and that the exporters have permits from the district forester."

Centenary of Death of Tecumse Greatest of Indian Warriors.

Greatest of all American Indians, a dreatest of all American Indians, a brave warrior, a Napoleonic leader of men, an able statesman, an eloquent orator, a diplomat of rare ability—such was Tecumseh, chief of the Shawnees, who was slain in the battle of the Thames, in Canada, just a century ago to-morrow.

A cloud of witnesses attest Tecumseh's bravery, sagacity and nobility of character. Major-General Sir Isaac Brock, commander of the British ferces in Canada at the outbreak of the last war between Britain and the United States, wrote of his red-skinned ally. "A more sargedous and sailon." ally, "A more sagacious and active man does not, I believe, exist."

Tecumseh was made a brigadier-general in the British army during the war of 1812. He was joint commander war of 1812. He was joint commander with General Proctor at the siege of Fort Meigs, during which he protected the Kentucky militia, recklessly led by Col. Dudley into an ambush, from annihilation. With his last breath he cursed Proctor, his white colleague, as a coward. Within a few minutes of the beginning of the action Tecumseh's prediction of his own death was fulfilled.

After the brief battle, from which Proctor had fled early in the day, the bodies of two Indian warriors were left upon the field. One of the dead Indians was thought to be Tecumseh, and the Kentuckians, forgetting their debt of gratifude for his noble conduct at Fort Meigs, stripped the corpse naked and hacked and slashed it with their sabers.
